

Hi! Catherine and Ryan here.

Thank you for taking the time to take a quick peek into who we are. Like many others with an adoption journey; we were unable to conceive children naturally or through medical intervention. Having failed many attempts at in-vitro fertilization our desire to start a family has never wavered.

Ryan grew up in a diverse family with the understanding that biological ties do not define family or love; which is why adoption has always felt like a natural fit. Since the beginning of our relationship we have always felt we are destined to have a family.

Ryan and I were both fortunate enough to be raised by loving, supportive and caring parents. We met each other young and as friends first. We had such similar backgrounds, family and interest; we quickly realized within a short period of time we meant much more to each other.

Our Life Together and Interests

Ryan and I are truly best friends and we have been married since 2009. Our communication, trust, love, friendship and dedication to each other is what makes our marriage work. Our faith and love in one another is what helps us through our challenging times. We love traveling and vacationing together and have been to Phoenix, Las Vegas, and San Diego to name a few.

We have a genuine love for the outdoors. Camping, dirt biking and hiking with friends are some of the activities we enjoy regularly.

The best part about our relationship is that we are happiest together. Whether that be hanging out with our little dog Emma, cooking together, being on the lake near our home, yard work, grocery shopping or relaxing on the couch with our Kitty Statler while watching tv.

About Ryan

Ryan is truly my best friend and the love of my life. He is someone I can count on when times are tough and celebrate with when good news comes our way. What I love most about Ryan is his sense of humour. Ryan has a kind soul with an infectious smile! He is friendly, kind, and energetic with a very positive outlook on life.

Having observed Ryan when we spend time with our nieces and nephews, he has always demonstrated patience and kindness. He has a caring demeanor which emanates from him by the love he shows for his family. Ryan is ready to be a Dad!

About Catherine

Catherine is a compassionate, caring person and has a passion for all animals and children. Her love for people and animals - particularly dogs, her family, and her love for me is what I love most about her. Catherine and I equally enjoy spending time with our nieces and nephews.

Having been blessed with many of them has given us the opportunity to spend quality time together. Some of the activities we enjoy are playing in the backyard, going to water parks, taking a walk to feed the ducks at a pond near our home, or walking to our local corner store to get ice cream.

Catherine has shown she has what it takes to be a Mom and we can not wait to hear the pitter patter of our little ones feet running up and down the hall!

We understand being a good parent means all our decisions have to consider our child. Where we live, work, shop, eat out, who we spend our time with, and what activities we involve ourselves in. If given the opportunity, we know our child will depend on us to do the right thing every day and if given the opportunity we will work hard to be the best parents we can be.

Openness

We understand and value the importance of openness; which is why we support and welcome you with an open heart. If chosen as adoptive parents; we will commit to staying connected to his/her/they/them/ze/zir's biological roots.

From the bottom of our hearts; thank-you for taking the time to read our profile. We are grateful for the love you are demonstrating and courage it takes to consider an adoption plan.
